CONDEMN EFFORTS TO COMPROMISE CLAYHOLE CASES

State Press Aroused by Latest Scandal Involving Politics and the Courts.

The Louisville Times and Courier-Journal have again found it necessary to give pointed publicity to the Clayhole murder and conspiracy cases. Judge Hurst was elected Circuit Judge in that district by a smaller vote than Clayhole precinct would have given against him if the ballots had not been destroyed on the morning of the election. He was insisting upon trying the men who conspired to do this dastardly job, in which four men were killed. The Courier-Journal prevented this by exposing this second chapter to the state. Then the cases were moved to Boyd county, which was satisfactory to Judge Hurst. The rulings in the trial of part of the defendants there are of such a trend, and propositions following the trial are so brazen and astounding, that the large newspapers are giving the situation vigorous editorial attention. The Times says:

"In this public way The Times respectfully calls to your attention the Clayhole murder trials. It regards your membership as one of the chief protectors of the law and, through the law, of the state's good name. It submits to you that the incidents leading up to the final revelation of attempted 'compromise' and miscarriage of justice in these trials call for an investigation which will courageously and without favor establish the facts in these cases concerning judges, litigants, prosecutors, defense attorneys and witnesses and, if necessary, will institute impeachments before the Legislature.

"If the State Bar Association shall signalize its Louisville meeting, beginning today, by the appointment of a commission, so constituted as to make a real inquiry, then this meeting will take rank as one of the most important assemblages ever held in Kentucky.

The whole effort in the Clayhole cases—an effort moreover which has not met a strong bar or bench in resistance—has been to call off all reckoning of the election battle in which four men were killed. Prevented by the press from obtaining a dismissal of the cases at Jackson; and then prevented from having the cases tried by the judge who was the direct beneficiary of the election in which the murders occurred, the political winter forces trying to cover up the murders have worked unceasingly to achieve the same result in the changed venue of Boyd county. On the stage the puppets have been dancing, but the wires attached to them have been pulled by strong and ruthless hands beneath.

"The following paragraph from the Associated Press dispatch today not only justifies a suspicious attitude toward the litigation, but gives the State Bar Association every basis for an inquiry:

"Mr. Watkins said that . . . A. H. Patton said he could arrange a compromise if the defendants would agree. If Musick would not agree Patton suggested that they (the defendants) discharge Musick; that he knew what he was talking about and that the compromise could be made. He further stated that we should make a motion and ground for a new trial, but not have it acted upon until he could see Judge Halbert."

"These murders arose wholly out of politics. The fight in the state in 1921 was for the control of the State Senate. The Republicans centered their efforts upon the election of Mitch Crain, in the Breathitt county district. The Clayhole precinct has a normally large democratic majority, and if its ballots could be destroyed the chances for Crain's election and subsequent control of the State Senate were excellent. The polling place was raided, the ballots were destroyed, murder was done on both sides; and, while the violence did not defeat the Democratic candidate for the Senate, the elimination of the precinct returns aided materially in the election of the Republican Circuit Judge.

"From that time forward the indictments and trials growing out of this case have been surrounded with indications that a sinister movement is afoot to protect not only the murderers, but, by obtaining their dismissal, to protect those who sent the armed men to the polls and thus were responsible for the murders. Only the defense counsel, Mr. Musick, now seems to stand athwart the effecting of the same 'compromise' at Catlettsburg which public opinion prevented at Jackson. The switching of the Democratic defendants to first trial position, and the addition by the Boyd county grand jury a conspiracy indictment, was followed by the conviction of the Democrats. The scene was thus perfectly set for a renewal of the proposal that the whole Clayhole murder affair be 'forgotten' and everybody sent home free. The rulings of Judge Halbert refusing to permit testimony concerning the destruction of the ballots; requiring a conspiracy trial of the Democratic defendants; and sustaining an objection to a conspiracy trial of the Republicans defendants, are part of the record which should attract the attention of the State Bar Association.

"This situation, men and women of the State Bar Association, affects justice, the state's good name, public order and the public conscience. The political interests of neither side are worthy of a moment's consideration. A strong committee appointed now for the purpose of observing the future proceedings in this case, and making an inquiry—if circumstances continue to justify one—will be a real contribution to the Commonwealth.

Later the Times had the following editorial:

The public is officially advised by the State Bar Association, answering a request of this nature from The Times, that it has a standing committee empowered to observe, review and, if necessary, to investigate such proceedings as the trial of the Clayhole murder cases. The Times is unofficially advised, and hereby notifies the public, that this committee is keeping a very close eye on the Clayhole cases and that the matter of a possible investigation has been discussed seriously more than once since the lawyers of the state assembled here. Should this proposed 'compromise' go through this committee, The Times is unofficially informed, will take the desired action, and any prominent politicians who may be hiding behind the defendants in these cases and promoting the compromise idea in the desire to remain incognito will be brought to the surface of the affair. All this is most reassuring and is the sort of activity which the public expects of the State Bar Association.

Son Kills Father in Greenup County

Greenup, Ky., July 1.—George Cook today lies dead as a result of a bullet fired from the gun of his own son.

The shooting which occurred about four o'clock in the afternoon was the result of a family quarrel in which Cook, brandishing a revolver, threatened to kill his entire family. His son, Thomas, aged 25, secured a gun and in the subsequent trouble, shot his father to death. The bullet took effect directly over the eyes. Cook dropped dead instantly.

The shooting took place at the Cook homestead at Rocky Ford Bridge about ten miles south of this place.

The dead man has but recently been released from the state penitentiary. He has a record of having killed three men and is alleged to have been drunk at the time he was shot today.

The son, Thomas, who did the shooting, is said to bear an excellent reputation. Up to a late hour last night he had not been arrested, but the authorities anticipate no trouble, as they expect the boy to voluntarily surrender.

WAYNE ROAD BOND ELECTION CALLED

At a session held Monday the Wayne county court received petitions calling for good roads issue of $150,000 for Lincoln district, and, finding the petition good and sufficient ordered the election for August 8.

This election comes as a sequel to an offer by the State Road Commission to supply the additional $150,000 necessary for the completion of a road running the entire length of Lincoln district, and forming an important link in the Ohio River-Bluefield highway.

Sixteen petitions were sent out by friends of the movement. With only twelve of these returned when the court met more than the necessary number of signatures had been received.

The willingness of the voters to sign the petitions was taken as an indication of friendly sentiment for the project. The road in question will follow Twelve Pole river to a point south of Dunlow, and thence will cross the mountain between Twelve Pole and Tug rivers, and will follow the Tug river valley to the Mingo county line.

Greenup County Votes $200,000 For Roads

Greenup, Ky., July 1.—Greenup county decided today by a majority of approximately 1000 votes to issue $200,000 in road and bridge bonds.

It is reported that a very light vote was cast and there was seemingly but little opposition throughout the county.

The funds are to be used for road and bridge building in connection with money appropriated by the state for the use of the county in the event of the issuance of the bonds.

BIG SANDY NEWS AGAIN WINS AS BEST NEWSPAPER

First Prize Awarded by Kentucky Press Association in Annual Session.

KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION DANVILLE, KY.

The Big Sandy News, Louisa, Kentucky, Gantman:

I am enclosing herewith check for $35.00, it being the amount of the first prize offered in the newspaper contest, which took place at the meeting of the Kentucky Press Association June 30, 1922, at Crab Orchard Springs, Ky., your paper being declared the winner by the judges, Prof. M. V. Atwood, of Cornell University. I am also sending under separate cover a certificate, showing that the Big Sandy News is the best paper in Kentucky. Please accept my heartfelt congratulations.

Yours very truly,
J. CURTIS ALCOCK
Sec'y-Treas. K. P. A.

Big Sandy Against the World!

Pardon us for letting out this familiar local whoop in connection with a semi-personal matter, but it seems to fit the occasion, so well that we can not keep it back.

The Big Sandy News has again won first prize in a contest put on by the Kentucky Press Association to determine which is the best local newspaper in Kentucky.

The annual meeting of the State Press Association was held at Crab Orchard Springs last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The award was made on Friday by Prof. M. V. Atwood, of Cornell University, New York, who is a trained newspaper man. He was selected as judge of the contest, being an outsider and a stranger to all Kentucky newspaper men.

The contest for this year was proposed at the mid-winter meeting of the Kentucky Press Association held at Lexington during the last week of December, 1921, by Prof. Enoch Greban of the Department of Journalism University of Kentucky. He personally offered cash prizes of $35 to the winner, $15 to the second best, and $10 to the paper rated third. The Association appointed a committee to work out the details of the contest and the points and percentages under which the grading should be done. All newspapers in the State were given a copy of the plan. It was announced that early in June an issue of some week in April or May would be called for. No newspaper would have any idea as to what week would be chosen.

When the call came on June 1 it was for three issues, April 21st and 28th, and May 12th. These copies were sent to Prof. Atwood, who worked out the matter before the Association met on June 29th. The copies of the contesting papers were on exhibit at the Association.

The rules laid down by the Press Association provided scoring by points for the various features making up the papers. In his report Prof. Atwood says:

"After I had completed the judging on the point basis, I then went over the papers in a somewhat different way, and it pleased me to see that it made no difference in the ranking of the prize winners."

The Anderson News, Keen Johnson editor, won the second prize, and the Oldham News was awarded third prize. The latter paper is edited by Mr. Dawson, president of the Press Association this year.

Naturally, the office force of the Big Sandy News, those who labor day after day, week in and week out, to make and keep this paper good enough to stand at the head of the list in Kentucky, find considerable gratification in winning the first prize again. The honor has an added value when bestowed as the judgment of a man of Prof. Atwood's attainments.

A goodly share of the honor is due our large and faithful staff of correspondents, and we take pleasure in acknowledging this fact just here.

And we want Louisa and Lawrence county, and the Big Sandy Valley, to feel that this victory is theirs also. A newspaper is not strictly a private enterprise; it is a semi-public institution, or should be. Every community that is to progress must have the service that only a good newspaper can give. Therefore the success or failure of a newspaper is a matter of importance to the entire public within the limits of its field of labor.

There was a day, not very far distant, (and perhaps not yet entirely obliterated) when the mountains of Kentucky were lightly regarded by other parts of the State. If the Big Sandy News, established and continuously published by natives, has helped somewhat to correct those erroneous ideas and bring about a greater degree of respect for the mountain people, we have our reward.

This paper has held first prize since 1912. The award this year was made on a more comprehensive basis than heretofore.

Twelve papers besides the winners were awarded honorable mention. Among the number is the Paintsville Herald, also a Big Sandy newspaper, published by a native.

Once more, all together:
Big Sandy Against the World!

MISS CHARLIE WATTS SWIMS OHIO RIVER

Miss Charlie Watts, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Watts of Huntington, swam the Ohio river at Wiles beach Sunday afternoon, one of the first, if not the first, girl of her age to do so in that city.

Miss Watts has been an expert swimmer for about four years, and did not make the attempt before only because of the refusal of her parents. She was followed by a boat but reached the opposite side before it could overtake her.

L. W. ADKINS DIES IN WAYNE COUNTY

L. W. Adkins, 62, a well known resident of Wayne county, died Friday, June 30, after a short illness. He is survived by his wife and five children, Earl, Dorothy, Ray, Vivian and Ruth, also by his mother, Mrs. Octavia Adkins, two brothers and eight sisters. Funeral services were held at the home Saturday morning at ten o'clock. Interment in the Bowen cemetery.

U. S. Engineers Open New Office

The Huntington, W. Va., Herald-Dispatch says:—The central office of the U. S. Engineers was opened here Saturday morning, when offices at Cincinnati, O., Catlettsburg, Ky., and Wheeling, W. Va., were closed. This office will have charge of the government engineering work from dam No. 12 to dam No. 32. To curtail expenses the office has been opened at the village point, Huntington, and will bring, possibly, 25 or 30 employees to the city.

Work on the upper dams has been almost wholly completed, assistant engineer B. F. Thomas, at present in charge of the office, stated yesterday, with the exception only of dam No. 27, near here, dam No. 30 at Greenup, Ky., and dam No. 32, at Vanceburg. Dams on the lower river will be completed within six years, Mr. Thomas predicted.

Major Malcolm Elliot, who has been at Wheeling will have charge of the local office.

REGISTRATION LAW KILLED BY COURT

The Court of Appeals has decided that the new law requiring registration of all Kentucky voters July 10th and 11th is unconstitutional. It fails to provide for sufficient special registration and for certain features covering the years following this, in the opinion of the court.

The decision shows the way to a proper registration law and the next Legislature, no doubt, will cure the defects and enact the law. Something of this kind is necessary to make fair elections possible in Louisville, Covington, and the larger coal mining centers where thousands of illegal votes are cast by the process of registering and by voting men who are not legally qualified. A law that will prevent such frauds is favored by everybody who wants fair elections.

Pikeville Laundry Destroyed by Fire

Fire destroyed the Sanitary Steam Laundry at Pikeville at 1:30 p. m. Friday. The fire caught in the woodwork where the smokestack passes through all parts of the building by the wind. The rapidity of the flames was added to by the fact the woodwork of the building was pine. The north and west walls of the building which were of concrete were crumbled by the excessive heat. The laundry was one of the best in the country and had recently been equipped with machinery and appliances valued at $20,000. It was located at the north on Fifth street and was owned jointly by E. S. Shurleff and W. K. Elliott. The total loss is estimated at $25,000 with $12,600 insurance. The building was only recently inspected and approved by the state fire marshal. Nineteen young women and several young men were on the payroll at the laundry.

The general store of Britt Potter at Yeager was destroyed by fire at 11 p. m. Sunday. Mr. Potter carried a large quantity of goods in stock, the value of which has been estimated at $30,000. The cause of the fire was unknown.

City Council Holds Meeting July Fourth

The city council met Tuesday night with Mayor L. F. Wellman presiding, councilmen Claude Wilson, Lefe Cooksey, Charter Wellman and R. C. Burton present.

The minutes showed that the 1922 tax book had been turned over to Marshal Cyrus. The total taxes thereon are $5563.26, and he reported about $2100 collected.

An ordinance was enacted conforming to the new State law prohibiting persons from appearing on the streets in bathing costumes.

The section of the city recently cut off was taken back into the city limits. This is a boundary from Lick creek to Jones branch and to a line near the waterworks reservoir.

Upon application of two or three citizens an order was made to drill and equip a public water well in the vicinity of the Masonic Hall.

The state law regulating automobiles, trucks, etc., a very lengthy document, was enacted into a city ordinance.

The city hall lot was ordered to be opened for the use of country people desiring to hitch their horses. A hitching rack will be built.

John Johns was appointed a special policeman or deputy marshal without salary.

Claude Wilson asked that an order be made requiring him to build a sidewalk adjacent to his home in "Italy." There is a dispute about the property line, as the survey made by L. E. Wallace shows that Mr. Wilson is on the street six or seven feet. Wilson says the starting point for the survey is not correct and that he is not on the street. Mr. Garred, city attorney, objected to making an order to build a sidewalk on this disputed ground because of the danger in losing the city's rights some time in the future by this action, and also that he regards it as a bad precedent. No action was taken.

DASTARDLY DEED CAUSES LOSS OF TWO MEN'S LIVES

Johnson County Coal Mine the Scene of a Fatal Explosion.

Paintsville, Ky., June 30.—William Hieton, 43, and Cur Smith, 32, carloaders, both of Morgan county, were instantly killed in an explosion in Thekla mine.

Both were farmers who, having their crops planted, had just arrived for work in the mines to make extra money for large families.

During the night a coal cutting machine had been loaded with high explosives by unknown parties, the arrangement being such that the charge would be set off when the electric current was connected at the beginning of work.

John Vanhose and Claud Preston, operators of the machine, entered the mine and coupled the wires. Both were far enough away from the machine to sustain only minor injuries, but the two loaders were close by the machine.

Had the explosion been a few minutes later a large number probably would have been killed.

The tragedy follows warnings received by mine officials that the mine would be blown up. A careful lookout has been kept for explosives, but the placing of it in a machine was not suspected.

A strike has been in progress for several months, but enough diggers have been available to keep the mine in operation.

The day previous Gus Butler was fired upon and Uchill Daniel was killed as they went to work.

The damage to the mine by the fatal explosion is placed at $5,000. Doors and tracks were blown to pieces. On account of the poisonous gas thrown off, men could not enter the mine for several hours.

Prof. Wm. C. McClure is Dangerously Ill

At Fulton, Missouri, on Wednesday last week, William C. McClure, Superintendent of the Missouri School for the Deaf, was operated on for appendicitis, since which date he has been in a serious condition, so critical that his father and mother, Prof. and Mrs. G. M. McClure of the Kentucky School for the Deaf, Danville, Ky., were summoned to his bedside. They took with them Dr. Paul Y. Tupper, a noted specialist of St. Louis, Mo., called into consultation with Fulton physicians.

Supt. McClure is a nephew of Hon. R. C. McClure and Mrs. T. J. Snyder of Louisa, and these relatives have been kept informed as to the young man's condition since the operation, and are today, for the first time, in receipt of encouraging news, the last telegram stating that he "is better, outlook more favorable."

THE NEWS has an interesting sketch of this young man for next week. It was received too late for this issue.

Thus, $1,000 can be made to finance several thousand dollars' worth of business instead of only one.

There were times I had to give up work as I was just down with my back. ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce H. C. DUFFY, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Representative in Congress from the Ninth Kentucky District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce W. J. FIELDS, of Carter county, as a candidate for the nomination for Congress in the Ninth District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary election to be held on Saturday, August 5, 1922.

We are authorized to announce WILLIAM T. COLE, of Greenup county, as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Ninth Congressional District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the democratic voters at the primary election, August 5, 1922.

The controversy about "divine healing" threatens to get beyond reasonable bounds. The NEWS has decided to exclude further discussion from its columns. Nothing more will be published about the matter unless some one whose name has been mentioned in the paper in this connection feels aggrieved and desires to make a statement.

The death of Judge Hiram Johnson, who had presided since last January over the Circuit Courts of Laurel, Clay and Jackson counties, is a statewide calamity. He was clearing up the district in a way that was attracting general attention, and was setting up a pace for other Circuit Judges of the state. Think what it would have meant to Kentucky to have had him try the Clayhole cases.

12 MILLION ENVELOPES ARE PRODUCED DAILY FOR U. S.

Washington, July 1.—More than 10,000,000 stamped envelopes are being turned out daily by the manufacturer at Dayton, Ohio, who is under contract with the Postoffice Department to supply the Government with all envelopes, according to an announcement today by Postmaster General Work. It is likely that the contractor will be required to reach an average of 11,000,000 daily if the demand continues to grow. It was explained. On May 26 a record mark was reached, when nearly 12,000,000 stamped envelopes were said to have been produced.

The Martin County Advertiser says:—There are only a few of the old Civil war veterans that survive the ravages of time. In the passing of Judge Jaa. D. Kirk, this line of the old soldiers has become thinner. To the credit of the survivors, however, most of them attended the funeral of their comrade who had just been mustered out of the service of his country.

The following is a list of the names and ages of the veterans who still live in Martin county: John P. DeLong, Davella, Ky., 79; Thomas Pack, Milo, Ky., 79; H. H. Preece, Preece, Ky., 81; Pressly Blankenship, Inez, Ky., 76; Adam Crum, Davella, Ky., 77; James Burke, Inez, Ky., 87; John Mallett, Davisport, Ky., 77; Alex Runyons, Pilgrim, Ky., 79; A. Boyd, Inez, Ky., 79; Matt Smith, Inez, Ky., 78; and Oliver Kasee, 76, Inez, Ky.

NO TRACE OF MISSING MAN.

No trace of the missing Dr. Charles Adams was found Tuesday from Pulaski, Va., and disappeared Wednesday afternoon had been found by the police of Kenova or Ashland at noon today.

Dr. Adams with his wife was visiting the latter's daughter, Mrs. H. F. Noe, in Pollard Wednesday evening. The doctor went to Kenova to secure his suitcase which had been shipped there. The last man who reported seeing him is the baggage man at Kenova.

Since then no trace of the missing man has been found. As he had a large sum of money, besides valuable diamonds in his possession, his relatives express the fear that he has met with foul play.—Ashland Independent.

LAMBERT & QUEEN
LOUISA : KENTUCKY

Cole for Congress.

In this issue of the NEWS will be found the announcement of Judge William T. Cole, of Greenup county, who aspires for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this, the Ninth District of Kentucky.

Urged by scores of friends throughout the district, many of whom are of legal profession, Judge Cole has accepted and has entered into an active campaign against the incumbent, William J. Fields, of Carter county and against H. C. Duffy, of Cynthiana, Harrison county. His firm advocacy of the principles of Americanism and of the underlying fundamentals of Jeffersonianism, makes him ideally suited to represent the Ninth district, in the opinion of a large number of both democrats and republicans.

Native Of Flemingsburg.

Judge Cole is a native of the Ninth district, having been born in Flemingsburg, Fleming county, Kentucky, July 21, 1869. His father was the late Judge A. E. Cole, formerly circuit judge of the old 14th judicial district, and a man who enjoyed the respect of both friend and foe. It was from the knee of his venerable sire that he obtained the rudiments of the law and the basic principles of conduct both in private and professional life.

The candidate's mother was Miss Abbie Throop, of Mason county, who was married to the late Judge A. E. Cole when the latter lived in Nicholas county. Mrs. Cole sprang from one of Nicholas county's oldest and most respected families, having forefathers who had given their lives in public service.

The Judge's father and mother moved to Maysville in 1887 where the son grew to manhood and first began the practice of law. He was engaged as an attorney in Maysville from 1890 to 1895 when he moved to Greenup to live. Taking up his practice in Greenup, Judge Cole soon was made county judge, then county attorney and finally became the first commonwealth's attorney after the formation of the present 20th judicial district, the office now held by John Coldiron of Catlettsburg.

Vanderbilt Graduate Of Law.

Judge Cole is a graduate of Kentucky Wesleyan College and the law department of Vanderbilt University. His earlier education was obtained in the common schools of Fleming, Mason and Nicholas counties.

Judge Cole is a brother to A. D. Cole and H. W. Cole, Maysville attorneys. He was married to Miss Jeanette Reid, daughter of the late Judge A. L. Reid, of Greenup and they have a family of eight children.

Defining his policies, Judge Cole states in brief they are:

His Platform

Less government interference, lower taxes.

Law enforcement.

Fair and square dealings with and for the farmer.

Women's suffrage and women in office.

Pensions and bonuses to worthy soldiers or their widows.

Government responsibility to wounded veterans.

Building more schools and churches.

General road building in all sections of the commonwealth.

Memorials of heroes who defended the Stars and Stripes.

Speedy and equitable adjustment between capital and labor.

Progressive measures for a progressive people.

Re-stocking streams and forests with fish and game.

Heart and mind for the common people.

Judge Cole is one of this section's first advocates of women's suffrage, because he believes in the right of every citizen, whether male or female, to have a voice in the government.

He comes before the people of the Ninth district as an earnest advocate, anxious to serve his people. Should he be nominated he promises to give his full time to his office and to be quick to serve his constituents. He respectfully asks the voters' consideration, promising a fair service. That he will run a winning race is the view of a large number of his acquaintances throughout the district.

MY TRIP TO JUNIOR WEEK AND HOW I GOT THERE

Gallup, Ky., June 28, 1922.

On Monday morning, June 19, I boarded train at Chapman, Ky., for Lexington. I met my county agent, Mr. Baker, and the others girls and boys at Louisa. We had to wait two hours in Ashland for our train to Lexington which was due at 1:15. We went to the Y. M. C. A. and ate our lunches then back to the depot, boarded train and were soon crossing the bluegrass fields.

While sitting by the window looking over the fields of bluegrass and tobacco all of a sudden the rocks and sand began to fly by my window, turning to my friend I said "This must be a sandstorm," and in a few moments the train was stopped. We soon found out that the engine had left the track.

We were soon on our way again and arrived in Lexington at 6:15, one hour late.

Then we took street car for University. On the campus of the girls dormitory we met Mr. Feitner, who assisted us in registering and getting our meal tickets. We went then to supper, after which we sat on the lawn and listened to sermon by a preacher from up town. From there we went to picture show and after a very interesting show went back to boys dormitory and signed up for our bunks and then to bed.

I got up at 6:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, took sitting up exercise then ate breakfast at 7:00 o'clock and at 7:40 we formed in line and marched to classes and lectures. The first lecture was on gas engines. Next a lady gave a lecture on what we should eat and what we should not eat. At 10:15 we went to lecture on soils. Chapel was at 11:00, a welcome address by Dean Cooper. We had dinner at 12:00 in the cafeteria and from that time until 2 o'clock was rest period.

At 2 o'clock we marched to judge dairy cattle. Our teacher gave us slips of paper with instructions for judging. From 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock was play-time. Promptly at 6 supper. After supper vesper service on the lawn. We then attended a picture show.

I would tell you each day's program but to do so I would have to make a book, so I will take a skip to Saturday.

We got up Saturday morning at 5:30 o'clock. Some left on earlier train and we had breakfast, bid each other, or one another good-bye. Then I took in some more of Lexington. Went to depot at 11:00 o'clock, got our tickets and boarded train for home at 11:15.

We are now looking forward to big time at our camp in Lawrence county this fall.

Had I got to go: Being a club member for four years I have been growing Big Bone Poland China hogs. I heard of the camp at Lexington. The position now was the money to go on. I happened to have a sow to farrow March 20th so by former experience with pigs I was able to dispose of the litter of 7 pigs for a handsome price which afforded me ample funds to get me a suit and shoes having $25.00 left to pay my way. After paying my train fare and bill at camp I returned with $3.40 to the good.

Amazing Low Prices on Summer Millinery and All Summer Apparel for Women

Our store is giving a great opportunity to the women to buy such articles now.

Delightfully New Neckwear

—Bavarian designs in bright colors for wear with Frock or Sweater.

This is one of the most charming neckwear innovations of the present season. It has decided place in the summer wardrobe, too, for it is designed especially for wear with the sweater as well as certain types of wash frocks.

It will add a sprightly touch to the costume that is no longer new, or a note of daintiness to an otherwise plain sweater.

These sets are fashioned from a sheer, white fabric that will stand repeated laundering, and are machine embroidered with Bulgarian designs in bright colors. They are edged with an imitation picot lace that is just simple enough to be smart and wearable.

A SMILING PARADOX.

I've squandered smiles today,
And, strange to say,
Altho' my frowns with care I've stowed away.
Tonight I'm poorer far in frowns
than at the start;
While in my heart
Wherein my treasures hoard I store,
I find my smiles increased by several score.
—John Kendrick Bangs.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

UNION SERVICES LAST SUNDAY.

On last Sunday the people of Louisa were treated to two excellent sermons by visiting preachers, at union services. In the morning Rev. F. F. Shannon preached to a large congregation in the M. E. Church South and in the evening Rev. F. E. Daughtry preached in the M. E. Church to an audience that filled the church. Both of these ministers are men of superior ability and power and it is always profitable to hear them. They left with their families Monday, after having been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shannon.

Edward R. Juhling Specialist West Williamson Lots.

Jay Northrup Wood arrived in Louisa last Sunday from Cleveland, Ohio, where he had been in a hospital for several months suffering from injuries received when he fell from a railroad engine. He is the guest of his grandfather and other relatives. He was accompanied here by a friend, Al Steubner, who returned Wednesday to Cleveland.

ANDERSON-GUN STOCK CO.

The exceedingly high class reputation that this company made on its visit last summer secured it enthusiastic permission to come again. And that is a privilege considering how the council felt regarding shows. Exactly the same as last year in its membership. This time will present an entirely new list of plays, but each one equal to the best given before. Also new vaudeville and music will be offered. Of course the child star, little Drew Anderson, is still with the show, with new songs and jokes. The jazz orchestra will be there strong.

The opening play will be probably the very best comedy drama ever seen in Louisa. The Sweetest Girl in Dixie it is called and has two of the funniest blackface comedy parts ever in any play and it is surely one riot of fun. But in addition it has an especially sweet story with a splendid plot. Monday night a gentleman and lady or two ladies can come in on one ticket. The big tent will be located as before on the Burns lot next to the Lobaco Co. See advertisement in another column. (Advertisement.)

COAL COMPANY MOVES OFFICES TO OMAR

On Monday of this week the general offices of the Main Island Creek Coal Company, one of the largest operators, were returned to Omar after having been maintained for several years at Huntington. Every department except the sales bureau was included in the change.

Incidentally with the return of headquarters to Omar, the town has undergone great improvements and is now one of the model communities of the country's coal fields. Well lighted and paved streets, commodious, well constructed and ideally located homes, high class schools, churches, amusement enterprises, stores, etc., give it a distinctly metropolitan air, in which its thousands of inhabitants take as much pride and are as loyal to as the company's officials.

The main street of Omar, which has been in process of paving for some time was completed and thrown open to traffic the first of the week.—Logan Democrat.

CHING CHANG.

OVERDA

The sheriff of Greenup county was here Friday and arrested Charley White upon a charge stealing an automobile. It is said.

Birdie Wright was calling on her aunt, Eliza Webb, Friday.

Landsey Webb is very ill at this writing.

We are glad indeed to hear of the good news from Lowmansville of the healing power of God. Glad to know that God is still saving and healing all that come unto Him.

Also glad to hear that "Old Lem Jucklens" is now willing to remove the mote from his own eye before plucking the beam from his neighbor's eye.

If Old Lem would go to God and get a case of salvation, he would quit fighting God's words. He that denieth the word of God is an infidel, for God says if he is guilty of the least he is guilty of the whole.

We praise God for sending Sister Mueller of Chicago to Lawrence county with such a wonderful gift of divine healing. Dozens came and Sister Mueller prayed for them and annointed them with oil and through and by her prayers they were healed. They came without money and without price, also some without faith and hey that came without faith went away without healing.

It is rumored over the whole country by Old Lem Jucklens that Sister Mueller stood behind the bar and sold that damnable poison stuff. But Sister Mueller was not a bar-tender. She was once a poor washer-woman; but now she is rich, rich with the wonderful gifts from God. It isn't a bit hard for me to believe in the wonderful healing power of God. For His word teaches it. See James 5th Chapter 14, 15, and 16th verses. Also, Rev. 22d Chapter 14th and 15th verses.

I can refer you to different ones who were healed. Here are their names and addresses. Write them a personal letter if you wish:

Elizabeth Hicks of Hicksville, healed of rheumatism.

J. W. Holbrook of Hicksville, healed of rheumatism.

Willie Adams of Hicksville, healed of that dreadful disease of tuberculosis.

Harve Young of Overda, who had rheumatism and was almost deaf, has been wonderfully healed.

Also, the child of J. H. Frasher, paralyzed for 3 months, was taken to the divine healer and was wonderfully healed. It has never used another dose of medicine and is improving rapidly.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 8, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me. My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

Often young people are enamored by the life in the city. They think it must be wonderful to be away from the bonds of home—from the home town where they are known by every passer by. They dream by the hour of the big city where they could wander about at will, eat every meal at a different restaurant and see hundreds of faces every day that they have never seen before and will never see again. The immensity and the ever lasting change of the city grips them and they want to try it. They are not content with dreaming.

However, it is rather a sad disillusionment for those who learn how mistaken they have been. It is true that some go to the city and make a success of it, but the successful ones are few and far between. At first it is true, they all think it wonderful. They enjoy the crowds, the lights, the strange sights. But soon it begins to pall on them. They soon learn that the food in every restaurant, though they may be hocks apart, one called perhaps the "Old Southern Inn" and the other a "French Rotisserie," tastes exactly the same. Chicken dinners seem to be regarded as a special treat—at least the prices are higher—but if you ate with your eyes closed you would never know it was chicken. As for paneskers or hot biscuits, the "kind that mother used to make" are things unknown in the city.

And how good a familiar face would look. All these other faces soon look just alike. Yes the city very soon loses its flavor unless fortunate circumstances intervene—congenial work and friends.

In case this does not happen, fortunate indeed is the youth who can put his pride in his pocket, and return to his native heath a sadder and wiser man.

There's a man in the world who is never turned down.

Wherever he chances to stray; He gets the glad hand in the populous town.

Or out where the farmers make hay. He's greeted with pleasure on deserts of sand, And deep in the aisles of the woods; Wherever he goes there is the welcoming hand— He's the man who delivers the goods.

—Walt Mason.

No substitute has ever been discovered for tenacity of purpose. Nothing can take the place of clear grit. An education cannot, a rich father cannot, influential "pulls" cannot, nor can any advantages of birth or fortune.

Tenacity of purpose is characteristic of all men who have accomplished great things. They may lack other desirable traits, may have all sort of peculiarities and weaknesses, but the quality of persistence, clear grit, is never absent from the man who does things. Drudgery cannot disgust him, labor cannot weary him, hardships cannot discourage him. He will persist, no matter what comes or goes, because persistence is part of his nature.

—O—

"Doubleless," said Sir James Barrie.

"The Lord could have provided us with greater fun than hard work, but I don't know what it is." And certainly he was right. If we have work that is congenial we get a great deal of enjoyment out of life which we do not acknowledge.

Sometimes after a hard day's work we are inclined to pull long faces and feel much abused, but all the same it is a lot of fun to wear a living from the world and any man who is a man knows it.

Business is without any doubt swing ing back to its former place. Of course it will not reach the boom that we had during the war time, but that we do not want for it was unhealthy. But it is gradually assuming even better than a pre war basis.

We see that a young lady in New York has sued a doctor because her permanent wave lasted only six weeks and it was supposed to last six months. At least all bonafide permanent waves do. Isn't it remarkable the information the court room brings out?

SHERIFF'S FEES HELD AT $5,000

Court of Appeals Says That Excess Must Go Into County Treasury.

Frankfort, Ky., June 22.—All fees in excess of $5,000 and the salary of necessary deputies and assistants, collected by Sheriffs of Kentucky must be turned into county treasuries and go to the payment of the cost of county government, the Court of Appeals decided today. The question was discussed in a voluminous opinion written by Judge Moorman and concurred in by the whole court reversing the action of the Fayette Circuit Court which had held that Paul E. Shipp could not bring suit against J. Waller Rodes and T. C. Bradley, former Sheriffs of Fayette county.

The opinion affects many counties throughout the State in which Sheriffs have been receiving more than $5,000 a year in salary from fees. Officials here say it will save the State and counties many thousands of dollars annually. The case was the outgrowth of agitation for saving money to the State and counties and is backed by farmers' organizations throughout the State. During the last Legislature an effort was made to pass a bill introduced by James Park of Madison county limiting salaries by statute and providing penalties for failure to observe the section of the Constitution that limits all salaries except that of the Governor to $5,000. The bill passed the House but did not pass the Senate. The Court of Appeals in its opinion today held that all excess fees must go into the county treasury. It expressly stated that it was not deciding, in this case, whether or not the State could recover from the county its pro rata of fees paid the sheriffs in excess of $5,000 and expenses.

Baby of Leslie Combs Dies in Perry County

Cattlettsburg, Ky.—Unaware that the shadow of death has darkened the threshold of his mountain home, Leslie Combs, one of the four Democrats convicted in the Clayhole election cases, awoke in the Boyd county jail here Wednesday hopeful that developments would bring forth his release that he might go back to his family. His hope was based on his plea for a new trial.

Myrtle Combs, 14 months old, died Tuesday at Chavies, Perry county, where she was left in care of friends when her parents came here for the trial.

The baby was an interesting figure in the Clayhole battle in which four men were killed and seventeen wounded. She was in her mother's arms in the little Clayhole precinct voting house beside Troublesome creek when the shooting began.

Tom Centers, a Democratic challenger, found the child on the floor during the battle and gathered her up into his arms. He was shot down and crawled under the table to protect the infant girl and himself. He recovered from his wound.

Word of the child's serious illness came Tuesday morning and her mother, Mrs. Serena Combs, left Tuesday noon for home. She did not learn of the death of her youngest child until she reached Chavies.

The father was not told until Thursday.

PORTSMOUTH WANTS BRIDGE ACROSS RIVER

The first definite move to build a bridge across the Ohio river at Portsmouth, linking the two states at this point, was made last night when citizens of Portsmouth and Greenup county, Kentucky, met at the call of President Adam Frick, of the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce, and made plans whereby the proposition of a bridge will be taken up at once by a special committee to be appointed in the very near future.

The meeting was enthusiastic and well attended. All persons present voiced sentiments favoring the general proposition acknowledging the necessity and possible business advantages of a bridge across the Ohio, connecting the city of Portsmouth with the Tygart valley, and uniting the two communities.—Portsmouth Sun.

NOW Is the TIME to Repair Your Buildings

Buildings that are not given proper attention and necessary repairs made, depreciate much more rapidly than when kept in good repair. Repairs cannot be made successfully in bad weather and should be made during the summer months. Roofs should be painted, decayed boards replaced and buildings given a general overhauling before winter.

Why not construct that new concrete walk or cellar that you have been wanting, now. Paint the old house, it deserves it.

We carry a complete line of Lumber, Paints, Finishing Materials, Cement, Plaster, Lath, Roofing, Builders Hardware and all other materials necessary to repair buildings of all kinds.

PAIGE 6-66 SETS NEW MARKS IN MT. WILSON CLIMB

Mt. Wilson, near Pasadena, Calif., now offers two new marks for automobiles to shoot at, a Paige 6-66 has recently set two new standards of performance in climbing this formidable landmark.

Until the Paige tackled it, no car had ever mounted Mt. Wilson in high gear. The nine mile ascent of nearly 6,000 feet is especially difficult because there are 144 turns from base to summit. For the most part the route up the mountain is a one-way road there being only a few turning out places. The speed limit has been placed at seven miles an hour because any mischance would hurl a car into the canyon below.

The ascent by the Paige 6-66 was intended at the outset merely as a high gear test. The gear shift lever had been welded into high position and a heavy brace placed between it and the flywheel housing. Under these conditions the Paige 6-66 began the climb, accompanied by several observers, some of whom checked the time.

The Paige 6-66 reached the top in safety, accomplishing what it had set out to do, to mount to the summit on high. But it also made a second record, covering the distance in 22 minutes flat, shattering by more than five minutes the best previous time mark.

The test was conducted and the car driven by Frank E. Benedict, Paige dealer at Pasadena.

FRED WORKMAN IN GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL

Fred Workman was operated on June 21 in the Altamont hospital at Ft. Thomas, Ky. He is doing fine considering the seriousness of the operation. He was a member of the 313 Auxiliary Remount Dept. at Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., as a cowboy and breaking horses, and was there when he was discharged from the army on account of physical disability.

Mr. Workman was in old Mexico for some time and later on a cattle ranch in Wyoming. He made a good rider, but owing to his health could not continue. His parents reside about four miles east of Louisa.

EDGAR PATTON RE- TURNS TO PIKEVILLE

Edgar Patton, 23, C. & O. telegraph operator, of North Carolina, arrested Thursday on a charge of drunkenness in connection with the attempt of Betty Cline, 17, nurse, to end her life by slashing arteries in both wrists at the C. & O. station was released.

He was held only on a charge of being drunk and as no charge was made by the pretty nurse, he was released. He returned to Pikeville where he is employed by the C. & O. as a telegraph operator.

Miss Cline continues to regain her strength rapidly at the Ashland General hospital where she was formerly employed as nurse. She tried to take her own life last Wednesday evening, half an hour before she and Patton were to have been married in Cattlettsburg, according to her own statement. She was a nurse in a Paintsville hospital about a year.—Ashland Independent.

Throwing a Monkey Wrench Into the Machinery allowing eye-disorders to go without correction is much the same as throwing a monkey wrench into the machinery. Often serious damage is wrought to by such carelessness or neglect. An examination by our expert oculist, who is also a registered physician, will often reveal such disorders and make possible their correction before they are too late. Don't wait. See us at once.
